

To whom it may concern,

Your task is to create the bottom floor of the mens department in the Macy's store.

- if this means nothing to you ask your partner Sam Curry what that means
- The foundation for this floor has already been created by yours truly, however it must be filled with shelves tables and such.
- Many of these assets you will find already created somewhere else in the store
- Some of the other assets must be created by you
  - In order to do this you will be using MAYA (already installed on the computer)
  - Maya works a lot like Unity but very differently
    - If you need help ask Sam, be very annoying trust me he deserves it
- Make sure to save unity after every change (IMPORTANT)

The project is titled Macy's Model which you will find once you open the Unity launcher

- If Somehow you complete the lower half of the mens department before i return, you have my permission to begin construction of the other sections of the store.

****For pictures and videos of the actual Kenwood Macy's store ask Sam to email you all of the videos that he took

**If you have any questions please direct them to Sam Curry, and in the rare case that he can't help email me at yusufsaid23@icloud.com

Sincerely,

Yusuf Said